To Whom It May Concern

As the owners of four coin laundries, we are keenly aware of the extreme rise of utilities, especially natural gas. Doug Grise, as our sales representative of Teeters Products, advised us of the utility reduction capabilities of the Dexter Express Washer series.

After installing 24 Express machines at one of our facilities, we realized an approximate 40% drop in natural gas consumption with most of that in dryer consumption savings. These savings were above and beyond the late model Dexter V series washers that they replaced. Customer satisfaction was improved also because they realized, after a short learning curve, that they could get their laundry done quicker. One huge benefit with the Dexter Express washer is that it greatly reduces dryer bottlenecks when the store is busy. We were satisfied enough with the first 24 Express washer capabilities that we recently purchased another 40 Express washers for another location that had recent model Dexter V series in service. We are experiencing similar results at that location also.

All in all I would say that we made the right move by installing the Dexter Express washers which have reduced our utility cost considerably and added to our store profits.
